

Quilt-As-You-Go Placemats

Turn your favorite 2 1/2-inch strip roll into a coordinating placemat and table runner set using the Quilt-As-You-Go Placemat pattern. The set is created by sewing the strips together on top of the batting and backing, so when you piece your strips, you are also quilting. You can absolutely complete an entire set in a weekend.

Choose a too pretty to cut up fabric for the backing and fussy cut it to create a double-sided placemat to use a big print in all its glory and cut down on laundry!

Quilt-As-You-Go Placemats

by Stephanie Soebbing

Finished size

One, 2 ½-inch strip roll will make:

- Four placemats measuring 12-inches by 16-inches
- One table runner measuring 12-inches by 72-inches

Fabric Requirements

Strips

One, 2 ½-inch strip roll, or 31, 2 ½-inch by WOF strips

Backing

1 ½ yards

Cutting instructions

Strips

Cut 31, 2 ½-inch strips into 93, 2 ½-inch by 13 ½-inch strips

Backing

Cut four, 13-inch by WOF strips

Cross cut two strips into four, 13-inch by 17-inch rectangles for placemats

Cross cut two strips into two, 13-inch by 37-inch strips for table runner

Placemat assembly instructions

1. Cut batting scraps to the same size as the placemat backing. Layer together with backing fabric facing wrong side up and batting on top.

2. Select one, 2 ½-inch by 13 ½-inch strip and lay it right side up, even with the left edge of the batting and backing fabric.

3. Select a second 2 ½-inch by 13 ½-inch strip and place it right side down over the the first strip, with the right edges of the strip even. Using your walking foot, sew together through all layers using a quarter-inch seam.

4. Press open so that the seam is under the second strip.

5. Select a third 2 ½-inch by 13 ½-inch strip and place it right side down over the the second strip with the right edges of the strip even. Using your walking foot, sew together through all layers using a quarter-inch seam.

6. Press open so that the seam is under the third strip.

7. Continue in this manner, repeating steps five and six until there are nine strips sewn to the placemat.

8. Cut placemat down to 12-inches by 16-inches, trying to have even amounts left of the first and ninth strips.

9. Bind with leftover 2 ½-inch by 13 ½-inch strips.

Table runner assembly instructions

1. Cut a batting scrap to 13-inches by 74-inches.

2. Using a quarter-inch seam, sew 13-inch by 37-inch strips together along the short sides to create one, 13-inch by 73 ½-inch strip. Press seam open.

3. Sew table runner together using the same steps as the table runner, just using 37 total strips.

4. Cut table runner down to 12 inches by 72-inches, trying to have even amounts left of the first and 37th strips.

5. Bind with leftover 2 ½-inch by 13 ½-inch strips.
